Corporate Volunteering Program

Sowing seeds, making a difference.

About Sustain:

Sustain is Australia's leading healthy and sustainable food systems organization. Through our urban farm network, our research and our consultancy projects, we are catalyzing Australia's transition to a healthy, socially just, sustainable food system that nourishes all people and the planet.

About our Corporate Volunteering program:

Our corporate volunteering activities are designed to be hands-on and collaborative learning experiences where your team can hone their skills in the garden, deepen their understanding of food systems and contribute to food justice in their community: The fresh, organic produce grown on our urban farms is redistributed to families facing food insecurity through our partner DIVRS.
